Pain Relief that Moves with you: LaboFlex Arnipatch Offers Natural, Lasting Comfort Across Professions and Lifestyles

(IRVINE, CA) MAY 2025 – From first responders, fitness professionals, to landscapers, and equestrians- one thing remains the same: pain doesn't discriminate. Arnipatch is a product made for motion- and for those who refuse to be slowed down by pain. Arnipatch hydrogel pain patches offer a smarter, gentler path to pain relief. Infused with Arnica 1X HPUS, a trusted homeopathic ingredient known for its anti-inflammatory and healing properties, Arnipatch addresses discomfort - without the need to rely on oral medication, or greasy topical gels.

Whether you are a chiropractor helping patient manage soreness, a gardener battling joint stiffness, or an equestrian recovering from a long day in the saddle, Arnipatch delivers up to 12 hours of targeted, cooling relief through its innovative three-layer hydrogel technology. It hydrates, soothes, and protects the skin while working deeply to alleviate discomfort caused by overuse, injury, inflammation, or chronic conditions.

"Arnipatch is for anyone who works hard, moves often, or lives with discomfort" says CEO of LaboFlex, Mr. Nam. "Our hydrogel patches are built for real life. They work discreetly and can be worn under clothing, stay in a place, and soothe without interruption, and are supportive of any lifestyle so you can continue doing what you love."

As more people seek natural, non-pharmaceutical options to manage chronic pain, LaboFlex Arnipatch offers a practical solution that bridges wellness routines, physical activity, and professional demands. Arnipatch is redefining what accessible, everyday relief can look like.

Why Arnipatch stands out:

- Powered by Arnica 1X HPUS: a clinically supported, homeopathic ingredient used for bruising, soreness, and joint pain
- Natural and non-greasy: unscented formula is perfect for sensitive users
- Three-Layer technology: cools, hydrates, and shields skin while delivering steady relief
- Clinically studied: developed with rigorous standards to ensure efficacy and safety
- Supports Holistic and Conventional Care: complements other therapies in an integrative care plan
- Recommended by Doctors
